Saturday, April 7, 2018
9:00 A.M. - Noon
Deukmejian Wilderness Park
3429 Markridge Rd, Glendale, CA 91214

Join us for a lecture and hike through the park as we hear about “herps” (snakes, lizards, frogs and more). Learn about our local amphibians and reptiles and their important role in the environment.

Chris DeGroof and Peggy Wu from the Southwestern Herpetologists Society will be our hosts as they share their passion for these animals.

The lecture starts at 9:00 A.M. We finish the morning on a moderately easy 1.5 mile hike with several stops to catch and identify some of the local herps.

This event is FREE!!! But space is limited, so you must call us at (818) 548-3795 to reserve your place.
