Dear Friend,

We've all heard that "character is doing what's right when nobody's looking." Nowhere is this lesson more important than in our own high schools where seeds of leadership are planted in the minds and hearts of our youth. This is why I'm asking for your help as we organize our 34th Annual Youth Leadership Conference.

This unique conference has brought students together with business and community leaders from Glendale, Burbank, and La Cañada for a morning of special dialogue and shared experiences. In a personal one-on-one and roundtable format, adults and students alike will discuss the important issues of leadership, values and ethical decision-making. In order for this conference to be successful, we need adult mentors to spend half a day engaging in group activities.

This year's conference is going to be held Friday, January 18, 2019 from 7:30 a.m. – 1:00 p.m. on the Glendale Community College campus. Our partnership with the College has proven to be ideal for this conference, giving students an opportunity to spend time on campus, and giving the adults an opportunity to acquaint themselves with this vital resource.

Let's work together to inspire high school students and help them aspire to higher ideals of respect, honesty, citizenship and other principles of good character and ethics. I can't wait for you to meet our exceptional young adults who will be attending this year's conference.

On behalf of the Character & Ethics Project, I thank you for your continued support. Please call Ms. Lusine Yarian at 818-937-8815 or email her at LYarian@Glendaleca.gov with any questions.

Sincerely yours,

Lusine Yarian & Melina Sardar
