9:00 A.M. - Noon

Deukmejian Wilderness Park

3429 Markridge Rd, Glendale, CA 91214

Roger Klemm has gardened with native plants, both at home and in community gardens, for almost 30 years, and has been hiking in the local hills for almost that long. He will lead this hike and teach us how to propagate native California plants growing in Deukmejian Wilderness Park. Then we will return to the ranch house to learn about germination and plant the seeds we've gathered.
