Introduction

As part of our continuous effort to keep you informed about how your tax dollars are being spent, we are pleased to present the 2019 Popular Annual Financial Report (PAFR). The PAFR is a summary of the financial activities of the City, and most of the information is drawn from the City's 2019 Comprehensive Annual Financial Report (CAFR). Both reports are available for public viewing at the Finance department and online at <https://www.glendaleca.gov/government/departments/finance/accounting>. It is important to note that the financial data in this report is unaudited and presented on a GAAP (Generally Accepted Accounting Principles) basis with selected funds.

The information included in this report contains an overview of the City's economic outlook, an analysis of the City's financial position, and key financial information. In addition, the report highlights the City's investments, capital assets and debts. Moreover, it provides in-depth analysis of the General Fund and how the monies are received and spent.

We hope you enjoy reading this report and invite you to access our audited CAFR referenced above for more detailed information. Questions concerning either CAFR or PAFR can be addressed to Director of Finance, 141 North Glendale Avenue, Suite 346, Glendale, CA 91206.

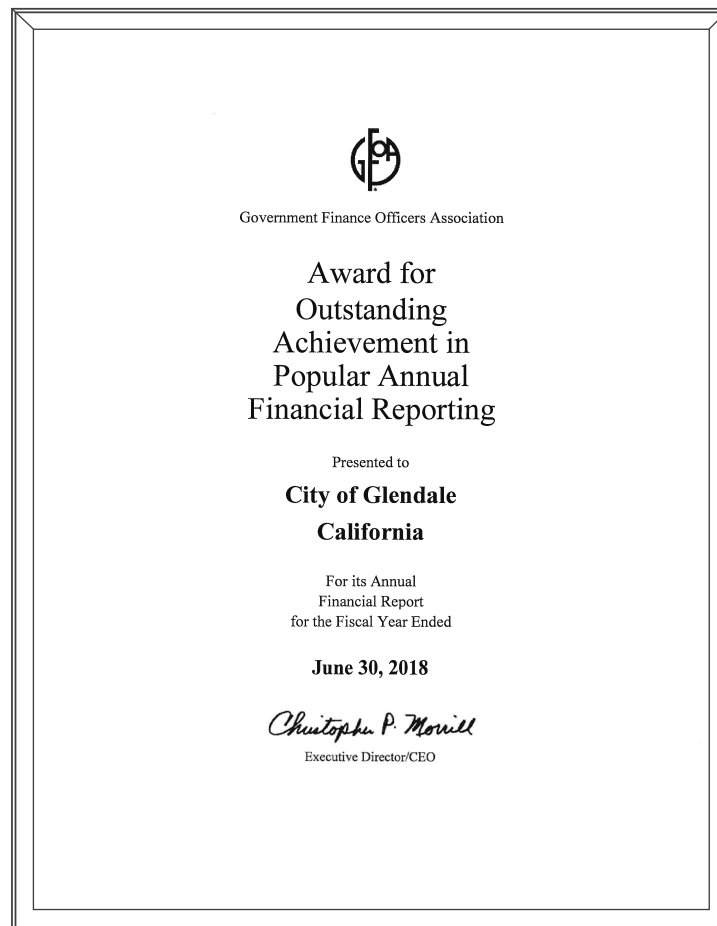

Outstanding Achievement Award

The Government Finance Officers Association of the United States and Canada (GFOA) has given an Award for Outstanding Achievement in Popular Annual Financial Reporting to the City of Glendale for its Popular Annual Financial Report for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2018. The Award for Outstanding Achievement in Popular Annual Financial Reporting is a prestigious national award recognizing conformance with the highest standards for preparation of state and local government popular reports.

In order to receive an Award for Outstanding Achievement in Popular Annual Financial Reporting, a government unit must publish a Popular Annual Financial Report, whose contents conform to program standards of creativity, presentation, understandability and reader appeal.

An Award for Outstanding Achievement in Popular Annual Financial Reporting is valid for a period of one year only. City of Glendale has received a Popular Award for the last eight consecutive years. We believe our current report continues to conform to the Popular Annual Financial Reporting requirements, as we prepare for its submission to GFOA.

History

This area, originally consisting of 36,400 acres of woodland and grassland, was inhabited by the Native American Tongva people, and attracted the attention of Corporal Jose Maria Verdugo of the San Diego Company of the Spanish army. In 1784, Corporal Verdugo, a native of Baja California, received permission from his army commander to settle and graze this land. In 1798, he retired from the army to become a full-time rancher. His ranch, Rancho San Rafael, supported herds of cattle, horses, sheep, mules, watermelons, corn, beans, peppers, and fruit. Señor Verdugo's route to and from Los Angeles, via San Fernando Road at his property's southern edge, came to be known as Verdugo Road. The next half-century brought many changes, with California being ceded to the United States in 1848, being admitted as a state in 1850, and the railroads being built to link Glendale to Los Angeles and destinations beyond.

In the years that followed, the Great Partition paved the way for more American settlers, who cleared the cactus and sagebrush for the purpose of establishing fruit orchards. Following Thanksgiving dinner in 1883, settlers met at the schoolhouse (which also served as the community church) on lower Verdugo Road to discuss the possible names for the town. Ultimately, a young female painter from Chicago offered the two-word name "Glen Dale." By 1887, Glendale, having an established name and consisting of approximately 150 acres, was officially surveyed and recorded as a town and by the turn of the century, Glendale was rapidly becoming urbanized.

In 1902, the Glendale Improvement Society, under the leadership of Mr. Edgar D. Goode and Dr. D.W. Hunt, embarked on a campaign to advertise Glendale, develop new business, attract residents, and above all to bring the Los Angeles Interurban railroad to Glendale from Los Angeles. The tracks were laid in 1904 through a strip of land owned by Leslie C. Brand -- a location well to the west of the then main thoroughfare, Glendale Avenue. The railway (by then called the Pacific Electric) eventually helped shift the business center of Glendale to Brand Boulevard, and also sparked the desired population growth. Two short years later, Glendale was officially incorporated in 1906.

The City of Glendale consists of neighborhoods which are delineated by streets, washes, and mountain ridges. Each neighborhood has a unique history and character and as these neighborhoods have developed, they have combined to form the City of Glendale as we know it today. Glendale is noted for its high quality of life and fiscal stability, and it is the 4th largest city in Los Angeles County.

Organizational Structure

City of Glendale

Form of Government

Glendale is a full-service Charter City governed by a Council-Manager form of government. Five Councilmembers are elected at-large and serve 4-year staggered terms. On June 5, 2018, voters approved Measure P which amended the City Charter and moved Glendale's municipal election date from April of odd-number years to March of even-number years to comply with State law and to consolidate with Statewide Primary elections. Beginning March of 2020, elections will take place every other year during even numbered years on the first Tuesday of March. The Mayor's position is filled by one of the Councilmembers, who vote each year to decide who will hold this honor. Other elected officials include the City Clerk and City Treasurer. The City Manager and City Attorney are appointed by the City Council.

A variety of Boards, Commissions, and Committees assist the City Council in serving the Glendale community. These bodies identify specific needs and problems within their purview. Each body meets on a regular basis and each meeting is open to the public. The length of member terms and the interval of appointments vary.

The City Manager, who is appointed by the City Council, acts as the chief executive officer responsible for the daily operations of the City. The City Manager appoints all non-elected department heads who are responsible for the daily operations within their individual departments.

The City provides the full range of municipal services. This includes public safety (police, fire and paramedic), streets, sanitation, refuse collection, sewer, hazardous disposal, electric and water utilities, parking, parks and recreation, library, public improvements, planning and zoning, housing and community development, and general administrative and support services.

Economic Outlook

The Local Economy: Continued capital investment is seen throughout the City in the form of business expansion as well as business attraction to Glendale’s central location, public safety record, and robust business environment. Of particular note is the entertainment industry, which remains rooted in Southern California, with the Verdugo Region (Glendale/Burbank) particularly known for production, animation, visual effects, and digital distribution. Glendale continues to benefit from growth in this sector through companies co-locating with powerhouses Disney and DreamWorks, and hundreds of ancillary production and equipment firms. The implementation of the Glendale Tech Strategy continues to strengthen local tech firms such as Service Titan, Legal Zoom, and Beyond Limits. It was announced this year that Service Titan would be opening a second location in Glendale, occupying the former Nestle space. Also of note are Glendale’s regional shopping centers, the Glendale Galleria, Americana at Brand and Brand Boulevard of Cars. Several large development projects either recently completed or underway in Glendale will provide approximately 3,500 new residential units and thousands of square feet of commercial development. Hotel development and tourism are also on the rise. The Hyatt Place, Hampton Inn, Tribute Hotel and Hotel Louise join top performing hotels like Embassy Suites and Hilton. Such investments by the business community indicate a continued confidence in Glendale. Overall, Glendale’s economy is one of the most diverse within the Los Angeles region largely due to a healthy mix of business and industry that operates within its borders.

Local Government Finance: In November 2018, Glendale voters approved the Quality of Life and Essential Services Protection Measure (Measure S), which took effect on April 1, 2019, and added 0.75% to the sales tax rate in the City. This additional sales tax rate revenue is estimated to generate $30.0 million in FY 2019-20, of which $6.5 million will be received in the General Fund and $23.5 million in the Capital Improvement Fund to fund various new affordable housing developments and infrastructure needs.

Employment: According to Census data, occupational employment data shows the following results based on 2013-2017 American Consumer Survey (ACS) Five-Year Estimates: 42,405 people in Glendale were employed in management, business, arts, or science occupations (the single largest group) with median annual earnings of $66,475; 24,289 were employed in sales and office occupations (2nd largest) with median annual earnings of $43,780; and 15,767 were employed in service occupations (3rd largest) with median annual earnings of $28,738. Median household income for Glendale residents recorded at $58,657, and the poverty rate was 15.6%, according to ACS. As of June 2019, Glendale’s unemployment rate is 4.4%.

Financial Highlights

The City's net position or net worth as of June 2019 is $1,654,226. The largest portion of the City's net position is net investment in capital assets in the amount of $1,319,231. The City uses these capital assets to provide services to citizens; consequently, these assets are not available for future spending. Although the City's net investment in its capital assets is reported as net of related debt, it should be noted that the resources needed to repay this debt must be provided from other sources, since the capital assets themselves cannot be used to liquidate these liabilities. The City's net position in the amount of $181,423 represents resources that are subject to external restrictions on how they may be used. The remaining balance of unrestricted net position of $153,572 may be used to meet the government's ongoing obligations to citizens and creditors.

The statement of activities presents information showing how the government's net position changed during the recent fiscal year. As of FY 2018-19, the City's total net position increased by $59,147. The increase is primarily due to the following reasons: increase in charges for services, investment income and one-time transfer of 2011 Tax Allocation Bond proceeds from Glendale Successor Agency to fund the City's low and moderate income housing projects and capital improvement projects.

General Fund Revenues

(In Thousands)

Compared to prior fiscal year, the revenues of the City's General Fund increased $13,647 during the current fiscal year. This increase is primarily due to the following reasons:

- Compared to prior fiscal year, property tax revenue increased by $3,878 (6.6%) mainly due to the increase in home values and the strong real estate market in the City.
- Compared to prior fiscal year, sales tax revenue decreased by $4,401 (7.6%) mainly due to the California Department of Tax and Fee Administration (CDTFA) sales tax audit which resulted in the City closing its liability account and recognizing $9,000 one-time adjustment revenues in the General Fund in FY2017-18. On the other hand, the City received the 1st quarter (April to June 2019) Measure S sales tax revenue in the amount of $5,184, when Glendale's total sales tax rate increased from 9.5% to 10.25%, effective April 1, 2019.

- Compared to prior fiscal year, use of money and property revenue increased by $7,492 (82.1%) mainly due to increase in the fair market value of investments.

Property Tax Dollar Breakdown for Glendale, Burbank and Pasadena

Prior to Proposition 13, the City endeavored to levy as small a property tax on Glendale taxpayers as possible. The City's strategy was to draw funding from the utility company for general government. When Proposition 13 passed, it effectively eliminated the City's ability to determine the tax rate on property.

Proposition 13 set real estate property assessed values for tax purposes at the full 1975–1976 market value, limited real estate taxes to 1% of that value, and limited increases in assessed value to the lesser of the annual rate of inflation or 2%, unless a property was sold or improvements were added. Upon the sale of a property, the assessed value is based on the sale price. Subsequent legislation allowed for tax levies above the 1% Proposition 13 tax rate but only if the levy was approved by a two-thirds vote. Proposition 13 froze the City's share of the property tax revenues. As can be seen in the chart, Glendale's share of property tax rate is 13.57%. This share is considerably less than the property tax shares received by the neighboring cities of Burbank and Pasadena. The amount Glendale Water and Power transferred from the electric utility to the General Fund was $19.0 million in 2019. This represents 10% of Electric operating revenues, and is equal to 7.7% of the City's General Fund revenues for the year. The City Charter allows up to 25% to be transferred to General Fund for each fiscal year.

The City has complied with the provisions of Article XI, Section 22 of the Charter of the City of Glendale, California, as it relates to the required Charter transfer from the Electric Enterprise Fund to the City's General Fund.

Total Expenses	$ 228,436	218,792

Overall, General Fund Expenses increased by $9,644 in FY 2019 compared to the prior year. Here are some of the key elements for the increase:

- Police and fire expenses increased by $5,734 and $1,689, respectively, during the current fiscal year, which is mainly due to cost of living adjustments, higher workers' compensation and retirement benefit expenses.
- In FY2018-19, various sections of Housing, Health and Community Development were reclassified from General Government to Housing, Health and Community Development to better align with the appropriate function.

As we continue to cut costs, Glendale is still facing many challenges including:

- The City is continuing to litigate two cases regarding the City's 2013 electric rates and transfer from the Electric Fund to the General Fund.
- Expected increases in pension costs primarily due to changes in the PERS actuarial assumptions.
- Eliminating the deficit in the Worker's Compensation Fund and maintaining a healthy fund balance.
- A stable funding source for General Fund Capital Improvement Projects to rebuild and fix aging infrastructure.

(In Thousands)

At the end of the year, net position was composed of $209,001 for the Sewer Fund, $336,158 for the Electric Fund, $126,969 for the Water Fund, and $41,176 for the nonmajor enterprise funds. Enterprise Funds net position increased by $12,481. Key elements of this increase are as follows:

- The net position of the Sewer Fund increased by $4,328 during the current fiscal year. The increase was mainly attributable to new higher wastewater rates effective in July 2018, which were approved after conducting a Cost of Service Analysis (COSA) and rate study. The operating expenses are generally on par with the prior fiscal year level.
- The net position of the Electric Fund increased by $4,371 during the current fiscal year. The increase in net position was mainly attributable to the net increase in the electric sales and fair market value of investments. On the other hand, there was an increase in the production expense due to higher cost of energy and natural gas.
- The net position of the Water Fund increased by $1,694 during the current fiscal year. The increase in net position was due to relatively stable water retail sales which were mainly on par compared to prior fiscal year. The operating expenses slightly increased compared to the prior fiscal year level due to increase in transmission, distribution and customer services activities.
- The net position of nonmajor enterprise funds increased by $2,088 during the current fiscal year. The increase was mainly attributable to the recognition of the unclaimed Refuse Disposal Fund deposits and the increase in the fair market value of investments. The operating expenses were on par with the prior year level as a result of stable operations of Refuse Disposal Fund in providing residents refuse collection and disposal services, as well as Fire Communication Fund in providing residents of its member cities an emergency coordinated assistance services.

Cash Management

(In Thousands)

To obtain flexibility in cash management, the City employs a pooled cash system. Under the City's pooling concept, all available cash is invested daily in various securities, while still maintaining reasonable liquidity to meet maturing obligations and maximizing return through the use of competitive rate comparisons from various investment sources.

The City manages its pooled idle cash and investments under a formal investment policy that follows the guidelines of the State of California Government Code, which is then reviewed by the Investment Committee and adopted by the City Council. Individual investments cannot be identified with any single fund because the City may be required to liquidate its investments at any time to cover large outlays required in excess of normal operating needs. Funds must request large outlays in advance in order for the City Treasurer to have the funding available.

Interest rate risk is the risk that fluctuations in market rates may adversely affect the fair value of an investment. The longer the maturity of an investment, the greater the sensitivity of its fair value to the changes in market interest rates. The City manages its exposure to interest rate risk by purchasing a combination of shorter term and longer term investments, and by timing cash flows from maturities so that a portion of the portfolio is maturing or coming close to maturity evenly over time as necessary to provide the cash flow and liquidity needed for operations.

Information about the sensitivity of the fair values of the City's investments (including investments held by bond trustee) to market interest rate fluctuations as of June 30, 2019 is provided by the following table that shows the distribution of the City's investment by maturity:

The current ratio and quick ratio indicate the City's ability to pay its obligations. The current ratio represents the number of times the City's current assets could cover current liabilities. Window To The Future

Active in Downtown Glendale

Glendale is a booming cosmopolitan city with a diverse business community, a range of urban living options, and an amenity rich downtown. Glendale's vertical trajectory –with ground-up development as well as increases in occupancy rates and sales tax numbers – continues to demonstrate the City's strong position as a premier place to live, work, study, and play.

Hotel Development

The City's bustling downtown is a destination in its own right, attracting a steady stream of travelers year-round. With close proximity to Hollywood Burbank Airport, travel for both business and pleasure is easy and convenient. First-rate hotels now include Hilton, Embassy Suites, Hyatt Place and Hampton Inn. Coming soon to the Glendale market are Tribute, AC Hotel, and Hotel Louise, with more on the horizon. In 2019, plans were submitted for a 25-story luxury hotel, an 800+ room hotel, and a boutique hotel in North Glendale at the historic Rockhaven Sanitarium.

Start-Up Ecosystem

Glendale's dynamic ecosystem of technology and innovation consists of a wide range of established companies to young start-ups. The recent addition of Industrious and WeWork, high-end co-working spaces, is a testament of our growing tech community. In 2019, the City continued its efforts to support this growth through programming such as monthly Tech on Tap Meetups and by hosting its largest Glendale Tech Week to date, which attracted over 5,500 attendees to more than 50 events held Citywide. This ecosystem got an additional boost with the receipt of a $1 million State grant to develop a Start-Up Accelerator, set to launch in 2020.

Class A Office Space

Glendale is home to major corporations such as DineEquity, Avery Dennison, CBRE L.A. North Industrial Team, the Walt Disney Company and Animation Studios, DreamWorks Studios, KABC-7, Public Storage, LegalZoom, Univision Communications, and Whole Foods Market Western Regional offices. In 2019, a home grown start-up, Service Titan, announced its expansion to a second location in Glendale. Other expansions and additions include Age of Learning, DISQO, PickTrace, and Beyond Limits.

Asset Management

The City continues to explore the highest and best use of its assets, including parks, parking lots, retail units, and underutilized sites, such as the Rockhaven Sanitarium. Progress was made in several placemaking projects, including the reimagining the Arts & Entertainment District and the redesign of the Central Park Block. Looking ahead to 2020, the City will continue to advance efforts to support the construction of the Armenian-American Museum and Cultural Center, and to improve the Arts & Entertainment District through infrastructure, landscaping and public art improvements.
