April 2017

Message From Scott Ochoa

Glendale City Manager

It is the most wonderful time of the year ladies and gentleman... baseball is back. New season, new lineup, same delicious Dodger Dogs. In many ways, the return of our national pastime is similar to Glendale's current situation. Tomorrow, April 4th, we have our own version of Opening Day - the General Municipal Election. Residents will be casting their votes for three City Council seats, along with openings on the Glendale Unified School District and Glendale Community College Board of Trustees.

Voting is the cornerstone of our democracy. I encourage everyone to exercise your civic

Glendale Stands Up LGBT, GPD Policy on Immigration, and the Supreme Court

The City of Glendale stood firmly on its beliefs, and the City Council passed unanimous Resolutions condemning LGBT discrimination and supporting the Police Chief's policy statement on immigration. And, to support the City Council's right to make public pronouncements on matters important to our community, the United States Supreme Court has denied plaintiff's petition in the matter of Michiko Shiota Gingery, et al. v. City of Glendale, et al. (Korean Comfort Women Statue).

duty and take some time out of your day to let your voice be heard. In baseball, general managers make the roster decisions. In our council-manager form of local government, you can have a say in determining who takes the field and helps shape policy in our community. Once the dust has settled and every ballot has been counted, we will have a new City Council starting lineup. This is an exciting time for all of us and the future of Glendale as a whole.

They say an organization is only as good as the people in it, and in my 20+ years as a public servant, that has proven to be true. I am pleased to say Glendale staff have really stepped up to the plate preparing for our big day tomorrow. Making any municipal election happen is no easy task, and I would like to give a shout out to everyone involved for their hard work. Putting all this together is a team effort, and you have really knocked it out the park.

Got last minute election questions or want to learn more about Candidates, Measures, or polling centers? Visit GlendaleVotes.com, your one-stop shop for all election information. And per our diverse community, it is all available in Armenian, Spanish, Korean, and Tagalog.

Regardless of who fills the three available City Council seats, we are committed to serving you and giving you the best quality of life possible. Running a city is a lot like taking an at-bat. Effective public administration requires equal parts anticipation, precision, and execution. Fastballs, sliders, splitters, and all manner of curveballs will be thrown our way - and we do our best to effectively address them while maintaining our top-notch services and dedication to the community.

I look forward to working with the City Council and City Staff to continue to give you the level of service that makes our Jewel City special. I urge you to cast your vote in the name of democracy. Everyone has a right to a voice in our democratic process - except Giants fans. Okay fine, Giants fans too. Go Dodgers, and I hope to see you all at the polls tomorrow!

TOMORROW! April 2017 Glendale Municipal Election

Glendale's General Municipal Election will take place tomorrow, April 4, 2017. Polls will be open from 7:00am to 8:00pm. This year, vote for:

- Three Members for City Council
- City Treasurer
- City Clerk
- Ballot Measure L (Limit councilmembers to three terms totaling 12 years of service)
- One person for GUSD Trustee (Areas B, C, D)
- One person for GCCD Trustee (Areas 2,3,4)

For the first time in Glendale's history, the Glendale Unified School District (GUSD) and the Glendale Community College (GCC) District will hold by-district elections.

Election results will be periodically updated on GlendaleCA.gov, Twitter @MyGlendale, and GTV6.

For more information on how to find a polling place, your voting district, and other election questions, visit GlendaleVotes.org. If you have any questions regarding the election, please contact the City Clerk's office at (818) 548-4000. Your vote counts!

Got Worms?

Composting is an important practice that helps divert food and plant waste from landfills, while providing a valuable bi-product to replenish soil. Alongside conventional recycling, composting can help residents decrease the amount of waste they produce by half. As a result, residential composting can decrease waste, improve soil quality, and even decrease greenhouse gas emissions.

The City of Glendale is pleased to be offering substantial discounts on worm or "vermicomposting" bins to residents. These are ideal for apartment and condominium residents who have lots of kitchen scraps, but little or no yard trimmings for a backyard compost bin. Don't Be a Victim of Utility Scams

Utility scams are a common occurrence and anyone can be a victim. Scammers can pose as utility workers over the phone and in person to steal your information. These scams can sound convincing, but by remembering Glendale Water & Power's safety procedures you can help prevent them:

- Glendale Water & Power employees always have proper city identification with them. If you are unsure, ask for the employee's city ID.
- GWP Employees never enter a customer's home without prior notification.
- Employees never enter a home to check water quality. All water quality tests are done outdoors at a hose bib. There is no need for customers to be outside during the test.
- GWP employees never ask for payments over the phone or in
