A Message From Yasmin Beers

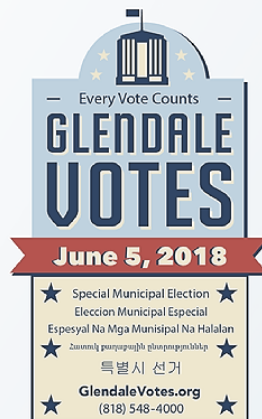

Glendale City Manager

Summer is 17 days away – and as I write this message – the sun has come out to play! After sharing with you some of the things to do in Glendale this summer, you'll want to bust out your sandals and start heading out the door (don't forget your sunblock!)

Glendale is a lively city and a huge outdoor playground with an array of recreational choices. With 47 park facilities, 9 libraries, and 3 golf courses within the city limits, it's hard to get bored. You can hike, walk, or cycle through the many trails and see just how special and exceptional each individual slice of Glendale really is.

Experience the arts and cultural opportunities in the City by attending one of our summer

Glendale On the Move

GTV6's newest episode of On The Move is now available! Be sure to tune in to concert series! Summer Concerts in the Park return on Wednesday nights at Verdugo Park from July 11 - August 15. The Brand Library Plaza Series returned on June 1st and takes place Friday nights through August 31. Bring a picnic basket, blanket, and enjoy live music with the family.

Also, be sure to join us for Glendale Cruise Night, one of Southern California's most celebrated car events, which will be held on July 21 on Brand Boulevard. Approximately 400 classic cars and "hot-rods", classic motorcycles, live entertainment, and community displays will highlight the event. This year's entertainment line-up includes Jumping Jack Flash, Magic of Motown, and WhosNext, the Who Experience. This 25th Annual Cruise Night will also feature a Fireworks Spectacular at the end of the event, near the main stage area.

I would encourage you to also check out our Summer 2018 leisure guide for special programs and activities for children, teens, and adults! We have everything from recreational swim and instructional swim lessons, wading pool programs, day camps, specialty camps, sports camps, wellness classes, and more.

Interested in movies at the park? Street Food Cinema is coming back to Glendale! Come enjoy cool movies, tasty trucks, and good music at one of our parks. You can learn more by visiting their website or clicking here.

In Glendale, your summer's only limit is your imagination! I hope to see you around.

Last fall, the Community Services & Parks Department was awarded grant funds from the California Park and Recreation Society's Healthy Play Funding Initiative and Training Program for the replacement of the existing playground equipment at Nibley Park. The original playground was in desperate need of an upgrade to meet the growing needs of the community and to comply with the current safety and accessibility standards. The new research-based playground design will enhance the quality of life for children and adults in the City of Glendale by incorporating six (6) key elements of play, such as brachiating, climbing, sliding, swinging, balancing, and spinning into all new play areas, to promote physical activity and fitness.

The Community Services & Parks Department received national recognition during the Community Parks and Recreation Society's annual awards program. They were recognized for their commitment to developing play and recreation space based on design and usage best practices that meet the Healthy-Play Initiative standards.

The playground reopened to the public on May 18, 2018.

GPD Spotlight: Amy Tate

Amy Tate is currently a Community Service Officer assigned to the Records Bureau at the Glendale Police Department.

Amy grew up in the San Fernando Valley and graduated from Alemany High School. At an early age, Amy began working for her family's heating & air conditioning business as an office manager, and later became a supervisor at Costco. In Amy's spare time, she enjoys gardening, hiking, camping, traveling, attending concerts, and spending time with her family, to include her five nieces and nephews.

In 2011, Amy joined the Glendale Police Department as a Community Service Officer. Some of Amy's responsibilities include processing filing packets for detectives, data entry relating to restraining orders, missing persons, stolen license plates, vehicle repossessions, and processing insurance claims.
