2018*This publication is brought to you by Mayor Zareh Sinanyan, and Councilmembers Ara Najarian, Paula Devine, Vartan Gharpetian, and Vrej Agajian*A Message From Yasmin BeersGlendale City Manager*

It's that time of year again, when families and friends gather to give thanks for their blessings and reflect on the things they are grateful for. Election Day is only a few days away, and Glendale residents and individuals nationwide will be asked to cast their votes for local measures, as well as a number of other candidates and issues. This season, I am thankful for the right to vote - something that we can easily take for granted. Let's remember that there was a time in this country when not everyone had this right.

So today, as you are reading this message, let's remember that voting is the cornerstone of our democracy, and your participation is what keeps our system of government working. Learning about each issue, the candidates, and researching the ballot is our responsibility, and one that should not be taken lightly, because it is your voice that creates change. Your voice is a powerful tool with which to choose what or who does/does not represent your interests.

Regardless of the outcomes, please remember that we are always committed to serving you and giving you the best quality of

Get trained leading up to the Teen Fair to lead mini-events.

Last school year, the Glendale Library, Arts and Culture Department asked teens how they would like to improve their community. Resoundingly, teens wanted volunteer opportunities and community events geared towards teens. To fill this need, the Library will be holding a Teen Fair, created and led by teens, at Glendale's Downtown Central Library on Friday, February 8, 2019. Volunteer community service opportunities are available NOW leading up to the Fair, and include involvement in a Teen Advisory Board. Learn more here.

RIISE Project

Regional Immediate Intervention Service for Employment

The RIISE grant creates the Regional Immediate Intervention Service to Employment (RIISE) project which brings together several community partners to train and prepare participants for full-time employment. RIISE will target individuals that are homeless and are either foster youth, victims of domestic violence, have disabilities, or are receiving government assistance.

The City of Glendale's Continuum of Care, in partnership with Ascencia and other community organizations, will identify and refer candidates to the program. The Verdugo Jobs Center (VJC) will provide counseling and career guidance, as well as work readiness workshops to prepare participants for job search. Work readiness also includes training in communication skills, interpersonal skills, conflict resolution, and other skills needed to be successful in the work environment. The City of Glendale's Community Services & Parks Department will provide temporary paid work experience to qualify for future jobs while earning wages. Individuals will be supervised while working at park sites conducting general park maintenance. The VJC will provide job placement assistance and supportive services, including interview and work clothing, and transportation assistance to secure employment.

For more information please contact Rasheedah Scott, Case Manager at (818) 937-8011.
